About EIT Food

What is the EIT?
The European Institute of Innovation and Technology (EIT) drives innovation in Europe by supporting entrepreneurs, innovators and students across Europe to turn their best ideas into reality.

How does the EIT work?

- Trains a new generation of entrepreneurs
- Develops innovative products and services
- Power start-ups and scale-ups

The EIT's Innovation Communities create and find innovative solutions to major societal challenges

The Challenges

 Watch the video

Individuals have nothing to evidence their achievements and learning on the job.

HR Professionals struggle with how to validate skills on a CV.

Line Managers struggle to find profiles fitting the role. Organisations are unable to evidence the calibre of their workforce.

Training Providers have no recognition or accreditation to demonstrate the quality of their programmes.

Our Solutions

No CPD culture because skills and professionalism are not valued

We developed a Competency Framework

Training is important but not recognised in employability terms – no evidence base for advancement of skills

We developed Certification

Employers don't know how to integrate in practices

We developed a number of Services

Employers face a fragmented learning ecosystem

We act as an Integrator

The pan-European skills platform to drive Food Systems transformation

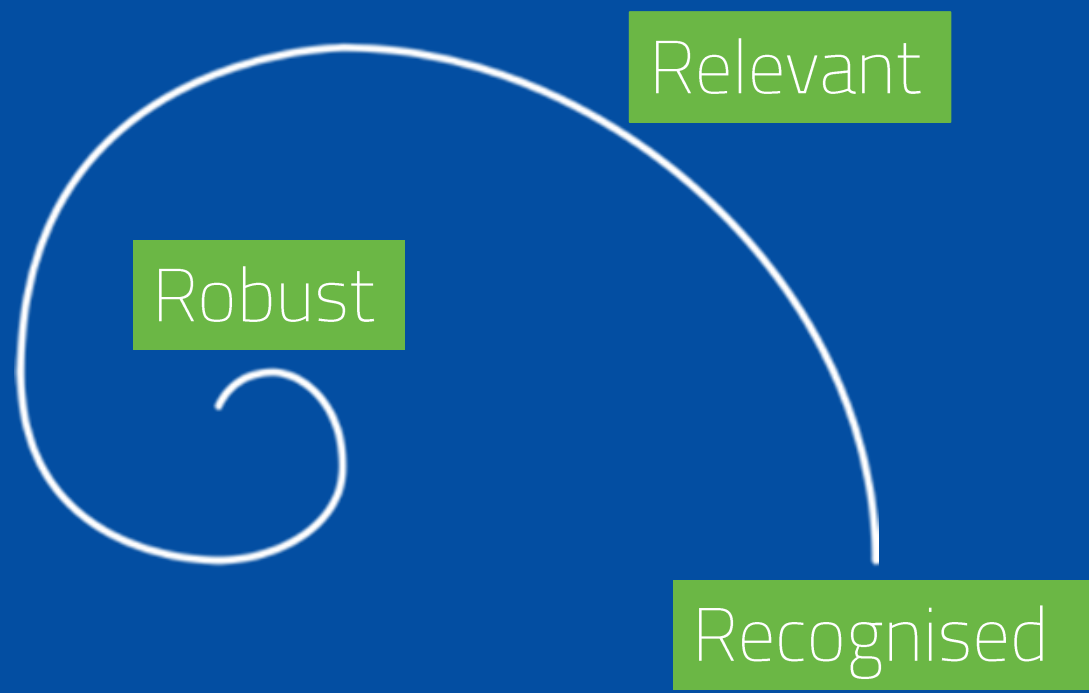

We equip the brightest minds all over Europe and beyond with skills and knowledge to drive change in the Food System Industry.
